And no elimination chamber spoilers. I wasn't getting up at 4:00 in the morning, to watch it. Otherwise, you'd have a very sleepy presenter today and you can look for posts on Facebook on 3cr 855 am Melbourne. and my page Sally Goldner. And also you can I'm now on Instagram of caught up to 2017 and like the cool kids or something like that. And I'm also there at Salgoldsaidso, as well though I'm not really sure what pictures will do and I'm not on Tic Tock. So don't look for me there. And if your internet's working on another planet, please let us know. Remember any opinions on this show are my own and not, those of any organization with which I've been associated in the past or presently Associated. Not, there could be triggering stuff on the program today. Justin. I can't think of anything specific. But if at any time there is you can call switch by Q life, including switchboard on 1 800 1845 27 or rainbow door. One eight hundred seven two nine 367 or SMS rainbow door 1800 six one seven, two four, six. Well, as per the social media posts, and going to get some interaction going today. And the issue that came to mind was after Pride, March, and it's something I felt for a few years. Now, at the end of Pride, March, when I'm able to feel we won't mention 2018.

The 40-degree one, where I collapsed in a heap for 45 minutes and said I'd never do pride in that heat again as much as I loved it. And the next year, of course, we moved to an 11 o'clock start. It was just as warm but there was more shade and less heat of the day overall and then 2020. It was cooler. We had met in 2021. We're actually went to wear tights. And then we were back this year. Now. I love Pride March and Carnival, which I'm also going to touch on in other contexts today the Build up as you go around and see people, particularly this year after so much isolation, the March itself. The interactions with Spectators that I've had over the years, mindly positive and Honor by note overwhelmingly positive on by this year. Sadly. There's been biphobic chance from the crowd at times, totally positive. There's my tribe this year. Yeii by people. Yeah. I think the be has buzzed in. We're not going to sting anyone at all. Unless you ask we can but we believe in

And so the pride March is great. And then what happens at the end? This is what I want to talk about. And before I go further, I want to put this in context. I totally want to acknowledge the huge job. Midsummer does on everything including Pride March and particularly the last two years. I'm a fan of them. I have no beef with them if there's disagreements. I can agree to disagree and so I want this to be hugely constructive. But what happens for me is this, all you get the End and You Gotta Wait half an hour and food Q, what is there to say something happening on a stage? It?

What if you don't drink it, just all dissipates and that's both the energy itself on the day and thereafter. And so, I'm letting people suggestions on what we can do about this today. I post under the posts on Facebook, message me by all the means that I mentioned love to have your thoughts with it. Just feel like it's this huge waste. Now, I've spoken to a few people about this now, granted not a random sample during the week, but all had when much in the same ballpark and yet different perspectives, that I've

Thus far, but I'd love to get a few of yours. First, what happens after pride? And I spoke to Grant gain, granted not a random sample. One person feels the same up at Mardi, Gras and Sydney, you know, if you're not a dance party, Duff dorf, whatever else. And the stereotypes are, what do you do? So, how do we in the words of our opening Track by Kevin Johnson originally on his 1980s album in the spirit of the times, create a state of change. So there's a the theme for today.

In tune and also the issue. How do we just sort of keep that energy after Pride? March? We've finished marching and then beyond what how do we catch lightning in a bottle? So to speak or something like that? There's lots of other things I want to talk about today. It's a bit of a news, catch up. I wanted to get the fabulous Peter on last week, but don't forget to buy the book that he's edited and contributed to declaring that. I am a non-paid contributor. As well outspoken, which is now, it has and hyenas as of about a week ago.

It happened just after the show last week so you can get it. Go down and visit them in person or order online or get it off the more broader commercial company, but my question is, you know, there's lots of other things to talk about and I'm going to do a couple of messages first. I'm sorry I missed this one last week, Gabriel just before the first show of the year that 20 minutes before and I think this is a good question. So Gabriel has SMS.

In quote what with the zero criticism of the Muslim women's AFL player and pride March and pride match talk about woke Behavior Gabriel. Now, I'm not really sure what woke is a very broad term often. Use seriously often use paps, not so straight, forwardly or queer, forwardly hard. So I will just talk about the issue in general here. Gabriel. I think there's an interesting way that this has been done.

And I think that the player in question, has I think hand, I thought at least handled it. Well, now do I agree? That's a different issue, but I think that the obvious comparison here pit bulls are what about is Ralph? Allow. This file flowers, self-entitled disobeyed. A contract did his own thing. Lots of very different sort of issues there this person.

Talked about it with their teammates hunting's Rica and, you know, I sort of said, look, I just can't do this. Didn't make a big song and dance about it. So to speak and just went ahead and did what she had to do. And did it in a more win-win conciliatory. There is a feminine way, then the toxic masculinity that Israel, folau exhibited. And then of course, whether he was part of it or not or whether it's other people used his issues for themselves.

Mentioning any names for Australian Christian Lobby, I'll sorry, technically Australian, not Christian. Definitely a Lobby and I've therefore, you know, I think there's a this one. I have. Therefore. I have a heart, you know, this one isn't as clear cut as some other things here Gabrielle, but I think it's a good question to ask, but it shows how are you genuinely can agree to differ? You don't have to, you know, come out what shaking your fist at anyone. And that's whether you are in inverted commas left, right? Or Center. You can just say, look.

This is the stance that I have to take. I don't want I don't want to do it to attack anyone else. It's not just because I want to do it. I genuinely believe in it shows some depth. So not really sure what the exact question is about there. But if you are listening today or later on to one of the, to the podcast or on demand, or repeat at 5 a.m. Australian eastern, daylight savings time Wednesday, let me know. Gabriel. I'd love to hear more from you. Also had another SMS.

Switch, I've lost the, the exact SMS. I thought I'd backed it up to my laptop, copiously but hadn't. And it was just on the last program that I did live last year, following the so-called Victoria Police town hall. Now. This was a town hall at police, had with the lgbtqia+ communities. After debates about marching in Pride, March, which has always acknowledged is an issue that evokes strong passions feelings.

And emotions from all angles. And I have to say a lot of time. Sometimes it isn't handled. Well, sometimes it isn't. And the SMS I got night. As I said, don't have it in front of me, said I was it a awake conversation. Well, I have to say to, I think it was John who sent that in John. I heard some three separate totally independent sources that it was a bit of a schmooze-fest. It wasn't woke at all. It was all a lot of PR and anyone who wasn't middle

Assimilation as gay or lesbian was sort of brushed aside with platitudes or not allowed to ask questions. It was all very stage-managed and that's not going to help police and linking into Pride March the police seem to have some rainbow coloring over their uniforms, those the police you marched. I don't really think that's enough of an answer. It's a step and I acknowledge that it shows that there's an attempt to listen, but got to get to the systemic root issues to me. The systemic root issue is that you've got

Got a rain, there's all sorts of police. There's 11,000. I don't mean all sorts, as in, whether they're gay or heterosexual. Someone said, to me, yesterday. There's lots of police who Jen, you joined the force because they genuinely want to try to make a difference, you know, help people's lives, commit to service, that sort of thing. Not knowing, of course that it's tough and then you will get the types of it's all. I've got a uniform of got a strop or Mom or Gordon. Oh, and I deliberately do that name much. Oh, toxic masculinity voice because that's what it is acknowledging all the things.

We're seeing where police have fallen in a heap. So to speak, you know, content note, transphobia tweeting out pictures of a trans person at a police station content. Note ableism / prejudice against people with disability and the horrible situation with a disability. Pensioner content. No racism damaged. I better say very carefully. Someone's a person of colors arm is less functioning than it was before in.

Traction with police all these things. Well, my question therefore, is it a bottom is G, surprise, surprise, toxic masculinity. And that's a very, you know, some sound to so much of it, you know. All whilst toxic, masculine isn't just a gendered thing. It's a sort of behavior that misuses power over people in lots of ways. Whether it's a blues, mm neurotypical, Leti sex or gender sexuality skin color.

All sorts of things and we've done the easy stuff in some. So many of our powerful institutions, whether it's the low-hanging fruit isn't quite the, the metaphor. I want here. We are. We've done this sort of, okay, we've set up some liaison office, and I'm not saying they're bad thing. That's a good thing to do. But we've sort of addressed symptoms. What's the cause? And I used to be on the under its various names.

Lgbti, police Advisory Group and raise this issue of much of the ones. And as all we never going to change that. Well, there's your problem. If you just say you can't change it, you won't. And I think we have this huge problem of sort of

Yeah, police Macho is them and of course in so many other institutions are sort of taking time. Hello Parliament. Want to talk about Grace time and Brittany Higgins. In Greater detail. Today so many others and in all sorts of places and the problem that I have is that all not the problem. I think something that could address. This is where our I'm always a

I'm probably not going to be popular or populist for saying this. Where are what? I call in simple terms the good men and by that. I mean, you're nice cisgender presume mostly heterosexual men, but now it's gay. Men need to do to take a stance on this to standing up for others, you know, we have in so many layers of hierarchy of privilege. Well, for them knocked out, both the bad behavior and called out. And called in, I'll say, I should say first called in the people who are behaving badly.

Addley on both the big stuff, and the little stuff. Well, we're not going over by 5:00 next Friday. Well, maybe the week after seriously, just in time for Mardi Gras. I'm in a couple of weeks, but we need those allies. And in the same way that trans people need lots of CIS, people to support us. So, really, that's where we need to be doing the work, and that's the same in the police force. And so, there needs to be channels for police to come forward, but there's this whole thing or police stick together. Got to Oil to the force and earning in a narrow Dugout and all an old movie that I found on the net from 1988. It's called The Clean Machine. Its fictional but it is very much said at the time after the end of the ran government and grind, it came in and about how police the politicians appoint a something. They think is going to be a bit of a useless, sort of puppet to had an internal investigation. He gets the corruption right up to the top. Now. I'm not talking corruption here.

Here, but I'm saying it needs everyone to set the example. And so what are police at the top doing on a day-to-day basis to stamp out, this much always, mmm. And once you realize someone's an innocent citizen or even if there are civil offender, they've done, you've got to book them for 66 in a 60s on. You Don't Have To Be A Thug about it and until this that sort of behavior is Stamped Out people going to sew all they do it. And now politicians in Parliament, do similar things in terms of sexual harassment. Why should we do better? So leadership always?

Because I don't like hierarchy. Why isn't it has to come from the top of a structure? And well, we're not getting much leadership at the moment. I better have a deep breath before I go on with that. And in the meantime, let's have a listen to the CD. I got late last year, Matt katsas live at the, we T when I went down to Vic market and there he was busking. Yeah, we can be out and about and see these things and hear these things. Here's Matt why I had to do.

Seriously, I had a message in from Mel, if I can find it. What have I done with it? There? It is. Mel has said, quote, there is no comparison with Israel flour in this player. Did it with a much more thoughtful and nuanced approach, which is sadly lacking in issues like this. It would have been a lot more behind-the-scenes work with the women's group using simplistic terms is counterproductive, great thoughts there, Sally. Yeah. Look, totally agree with you on that. No, it was thoughtful and nuanced. I love that word. That is

Is what is missing in so much conversation. Nowadays? It's five s tweets and sound bites. And as much as I hate a military now, and, you know, I'm going to come to this in terms of the federal election. It's looking like it's going to be that one's going to be a very dirty campaign. And you know, it's sort of these the analogy that our Guardian article used back in the during the 2009-10 federal election campaign. As much as I hate military analogies was Morrison. Just came out firing at random From The Trenches. Well, he's going to

It again, and that's not looking scary and not looking good at all. It's looking very scary. I beg your pardon and we need Nuance people. We just don't stop and seem to reflect as much nowadays. Known people just not focused. I don't know what another message in from Ellen had a couple. So, I'll catch up on this one first and I will say content, warning here, racism lateral violence. I'm not sure if I've got time.

Put this in here. I meant to put this in last week talking to Peter but Mel you send in a great article just before the first show of the Year from out News Human Rights. Campaign's first black leader, sues over firing alleged alleging racial bias, and the nation's largest queer. Advocacy group said it. Fight. Alfonso David for helping former, New York. Governor Andrew Cuomo, respond to allegations of sexual misconduct.

And yet he has then according to this article in our news saying, he alleged that he was underpaid and terminated because he is black. And that the HRC has a deserve quote deserved reputation for unequal treatment of its non-white employees and quote, Alfonso David's black civil rights lawyer who led the HRC a for over two years was fired after he assisted now. Andrew Como and he contends. He was

Why? Because he was black and that there were discriminatory Employment Practices David alleges that while discussing his contract, renewal, HRC board members. Quote-unquote acknowledged that he was paid less than his white predecessor quote, because of his race. He says, he is repeatedly discouraged from discussing race in public and the board members, you know, did not respond to NBC news. So, sorry, this is on, NBC News. Not out news, but it is about out stuff. And David also.

That one board met white board member told him gosh content as a site content General content node here. But on this one, we all know you black. Why do you keep telling us that? Oh, no, that's not the thing to say and there's the hrc's interim president said that Alphonse had David statement is riddled with untruths and then he says,

As the HRC board member says, mr. David's actions were a painful Revelation because so many members of quick communities are survivors of assault and harassment and moving forward. We will not be distracted and mind focused on our critical work to bring full equality and Liberation, especially for the most marginalized in our community. Will that's the words. Hmm. I just hope there are actions to back them up. So didn't really that sounded a bit wishy-washy. Vague to me is my opinion.

But wait, what? What happens? I don't know. All right, lots of things that leads off. As I said, it's the federal politics of the moment. Gosh dirtier than a dog rolling in a mud puddle at the moment and time where we need more and more leadership, which I'm going to link to Mel's next message, in a minute. It's been awful in the using the China card and well. Also, this is where I'll link in to this message and I'm one wonders whether Whether they'll be they'll try to play the trance card in this campaign or the federal Coalition. Well, and if you listen to The Fabulous James on, in your face, for to a 5 p.m. Eastern and all the other technological means to listen to Three, see our programs. He had Rodney Chrome on the program on Friday and declaring my interest, that I've been volunteering to assist just equals committee Rodney crimmins with just equal. That's the membership-based.

Beatty is advocacy organization, as distinct from the more corporate one, which is a quality Australia. And now, we have to be a little careful. Here. Is this so-called religious built discrimination Bill? Did the Senate sitting for a few more days before. The election is allegedly do and I wouldn't put it past Scott Morrison to try to sneak back in and, you know, but try some will say, but it hasn't Scott called another inquiry. Yeah, right. Yeah. It's called another inquire. But are you telling me to, uh, 100% trust Scott Morrison, no, and I didn't buy the way we waste about 30 minutes of my life last Sunday night watching, 60 minutes. I think knew that would be 30 minutes of my life, but never have again, and glad I didn't. And one of my dear friends sent me, an e-mail the message this morning, which really analyzes the double standards in that, it's from Mamma Mia.com, who was dude, pretty good news. And, you know, sort of

And just the whole thing that ukulele Jenny apologizing, Jenny doesn't run the country Scott. You've got to take the buck stops with you. As the old saying goes, so get a boot ticket to get his act together. So yeah, looking pretty messy. And I just think that, you know, we've got to be alert, not alarmed. I supposed to use that saying about where we're at with Federal politics and as it effects trans people in particular and queer.

Mills message that's coming or one there of quote. I think with younger feminist today in the motive Grace time and Chantal cantos. We're able to emphasize intersectionality the includes race and class which is what the Muslim player did. If we want to have a free world winning to talk about faith class and race, which is made some queer activist feel uncomfortable, good comments there. Mel. I mean, I know people say, oh, look at what religion does, I don't agree with that one, for an example, you know.

Analyzed religious organizations are like Christian Lobby and churches, of course have done or Australian Christian Lobby. Obviously don't agree with them. And of course, churches in the past. Have done horrible, horrible things and that, you know, really damaged lives, but I don't, I don't think it's fair to always bucket every say every Catholic or every Anglican or every Jewish person or I just think we've got to take everything on its merits and again nuanced gosh state of change his house.

Theme for today, maybe a state of change to get to more nuanced. And of course, there are queer people of faith and I went to the I got invited to speak. I think I mentioned briefly last week at the Annual Pride, Shabbat service at Temple, Beth the progressive synagogue in St. Kilda went along and you know, I don't I I would say my temple is in my temple. I don't need to go to a building to get my faith, but I get a booster, a faith, booster shot if you like when I go to that service, it's a

Just a lovely warm occasion with the right sort of energy. For me. It's not over-the-top rawr. Rawr sort of Evangelical just has a nice feel to it and wonderful address. I should add by Todd commissioner Todd Fernando with I'm great weaving of themes and intersectionality between Judaism and Aboriginal Torres Strait Islander. And so yeah, but Grace time and Chantal Kontos and Brittany Higgins.

Oh, well few things Chantelle. Cantos was part of an announcement that is going to be compulsory consent education in schools or at least in government schools. To start with, which is massively over do. Now, consent isn't my biggest area of expertise. I'm like to think that because of knowing about queer stuff on a little, it has helped me further along. So this is just hugely. Welcome. And I just hope that it's consenting and inclusive. And sorry, inclusive and intersectional and doesn't take a sister.

Try to sort of lens but it's a great step forward that this has happened at long last. And then we'll, I think result in huge experiential generational change, but I've got to say the week before, last after the horrible, horrible situation of the religious discrimination bill was really interesting. I mentioned last week. I just didn't sleep as Wednesday became Thursday. Had a horrible night also had some other personal circumstances going on and was zonked. So,

And also with the focus on the bill understandably, I didn't watch the grace Time and Brittany Higgins. Press conference live and I caught up on it on the Thursday after I'd had a trainer nap on the Thursday afternoon in the Bill had been withdrawn and watched it. And it was just so so good. They just, they just have just such an energy to them. It's a positive warm strong energy, what they say, how they say it. They just, you know, they Don't Take No Nonsense from, nobody died.

It's a plot of version of what had Piano, Man. Billy, Joel used to say, at the end of his concerts. And there was one question in which was brilliant in particular from SBS journalist. Schubert Krishnan, and which LinkedIn what they were talking about. She asked a question about the religious discrimination Bill and whether directly or not trans and was a, it's a great question and shows why SBS and ABC do better journalism, a lot of the time than commercial.

But be the answers from grace and Brittany. I'm not going to spoil. Do a spoiler here, teases, you know, so I just watch it, watch the whole thing. I just, I felt uplifted after all the now the horrible stuff. I'd been through and Grace and Brittany just has so much spunk to them and no-nonsense. And, of course, in this week, we've seen this nonsense about

The situation with Grace time. Smoking a picture of grey Stone, smoking a bong. Well, whoop-dee-doo Hogan is all I can say to that. There's so many double standards in that. I mean, how many times do we have pictures of male politicians with alcohol? I'm going to link that to another issue in a minute which in terms of double standards on intersectionality. Gosh, if you know if we excluded everyone from Relatively degrees of public life because I had smoked a bowl, or tried something. Well, hang on. Who would we end up with? No, don't go there. Seriously. I mean, that's really ridiculous. I'm going to take this opportunity to say that. Once I tried to hallabong and nearly choked to death, and never did it again. And there isn't even a picture or no, of outed myself. My career is over, and what a load of poo, and Grace times response that I saw last night on Twitter, a series of tweets at time Punk.

Just blew me away. She's just she's just so incredibly has the right, what? We'll call, positive, masculinity and positive femininity in the right blend in a non-binary way and just does it so, well, she just, they both Blow Me Away. Someone is like, speaking on panels. It's my dream to be on a panel with one day or one or both of them. They really are phenomenal. And so, the other thing that has my parents died,

So I just noticed on Twitter this morning. One thing that did happen was Fab over the summer was of course Ash body winning the Australian Open and the surprise of Evonne goolagong Cawley. Coming out to present the trophy and now there's a big buffalo about how the ash body drink afterwards was, unpaid alcohol advertising. Now, how many times do we see straight white men with a glass of beer in their hand at a pub with advertising in the background of both parties? I mean, you know, this week There's Been debate about the Likely or possible closure of the curtain hotel near the corner of lygon and Victoria, the Labour party Watering Hole. Now, there's all sorts of pictures of beer and alcohol there but no one has a go about it. But an indigenous woman has one beer after breaking a 40 plus year championship drought and all know. That's terrible. Double standards.

Anyone and a good article by Pom-Pom McGinnis, in the opinion, pages of today's Sunday age saying, stop, the petting massagin, his mmm.

Well done there Mills emailed in that elbows partner has spilled the beans Jody Hayden and this was the interview will run in the Australian women's weekly. We'll look I didn't watch as I say the Scott Morrison thing last night and old last week and I was a some not going to I as I say, I've had to exit mold the bathroom tiles or something like that and look I don't I'm sure elbows Partners a nice person, but I don't care. They're not the ones who are accountable here.

And all melts come in and said that Chanel contest has done research in that queer space and consent as well. It's on Tick-Tock and Instagram. Well, this is where the 56 year old farts. Like me need to catch up with things and Mel's also said, Grace's spooled the media again this week. Yeah. This is what I love. She just she lifts me Mel, and I've had some pretty horrible personal circumstances in the last two years, not physical, or sexual abuse.

Spread a lot of emotional trauma involved. And then the religious discrimination bill and it's interesting all culminated at the same time. But watching Grace and Brittany. Now, they're just way out there. Just I just don't know what it is. As I say, it's an energy thing. So yeah, lots to talk about today. Kyle come back to the issue. We opened with on end of Pride, March in the next segment, and do more is so much on upon, which to catch up on their

Into wit. And in the meantime, let's have some more music on my God. What did I plug in his Willow? I got to catch up with Willow at carnival or bit briefly, just caught your monster one of the stages there and his album out of my hands or it came into my hand. So I'm late last year. It's very, very awesome. Has the two singles, release and small Hometown. Here's a beautiful ballad from it called Long Way Home 3cr 855 am 3C.

Thanks for your company. And yes, we are in what is now in one name today called the city of yarra been doing stuff for the queer ways, arts project about queer places in Europe, voiceovers and interviews and things but we don't know. And you know, there is a queer.

History everywhere. And I think we need to, I think give that connection to it, and obviously, in an intersection or way as well. Lots of messages coming in today. And Mel is abundant today. Poly a polymerase urging, so to speak Mel, abundance of messages, which is fair enough. Good to hear from you, and hello to all our listeners. Remember you can tune in all wrap up the conversation topic that I just got.

Mel's messages, queer stuff coming up as well as in the error. Well, a positive booster shot with the queer exhibition. Coming up at the National Gallery of Victoria in the next two weeks. Yes, that's happened on the Fang and Mel's asked me who will win these upcoming election, both a state and federal levels Sally. Well, I'm still smarting from, I'm not a su FAA largest. I can I'm not can't even say the word. We'll leave it to Anthony Green, but if from a totally amateur, like a prediction look,

It would have to be something really, really major in the next. I'll do the state election. First. That's the easy one to force a Daniel Andrews to these. I'm, well, aware of issues such as the allegations, about the redshirts thing, the sexual harassment, and that latter part shows that no man, no matter how good they are think is perfect on diversity. And, of course, I'm not on perfect on Duvall forms of diversity. There's a lot of men who still have the but I wouldn't beat up my wife mentality. So they think they're nice. Well, maybe

And staff is in Daniel. Andrews office. Maybe Daniel Andrews himself. Could still improve. We all can don't have a problem with that. But are they enough to bite into a huge lower House? Majority, the Alp has, I don't think they are. So I'd be comfortable enough to put a few Bob, a few bulbs, use the old saying on the state, Alp getting back Federal. As I said earlier, gosh. Well, I mean, it's looking like a very good.

Dirty sort of obfuscated. There's a big word for a Sunday. Thank God. The coffee's kicked in, very murky campaign that's going on. And I'm just, I'm not going to predict that in a million years, whether it's a hung parliament of some sort, you know, or not, even couldn't predict that at all. It's going to need to be a lot closer to the daytime. And we've seen many times now, in this day and age of instant media that the last few days can be critical, so sorry. Not

Didn't even a brass Rod zoo on a result. There's an old saying, go look that up. If you're intergenerational, so wrapping up the thing for today about after Pride, some of the comments I had from people during the week were that perhaps allies? So let's start with totally cisgender, heterosexual. Intersects allies. No fam, known queer family members. Could write something that they're going to do the next day on a piece of paper where it gets stuck on a board and they take a copy and

Action at it Network. The next day. We've got all these, you know, sort of corporate and government allies there. Maybe they could learn something and talk to something that would keep the energy going. Least after the day. That was one suggestion. I had in fact, a couple of people said that but how do we keep the energy there? How do we keep the spirit gum? Remember way back in the early days when I went to Pride and it was at 5 p.m. And then you go into the katana Gardens afterwards. There was the karaoke setup and

Now everyone be singing along and it be lots of fun. And yes, maybe people that had a couple of Refreshments which can be of assistance or not of assistance to karaoke. There was a spirit and energy there. And then of course, they'd be 15 Renditions with everyone joining in Jonah's Pride thinks like that. It just seems just seems to lack focus and I have to say, I felt this a bit last week at the decriminalization Street party, you know where 53 CR was 50 meters from the entrance. I did wander around after last week's show.

I just felt a bit unfocused. I like to I don't have the answers. I admit that event organizing is not my thing, which is why I raised it, but in the words and in the words of the late, great Riot, Rowdy Roddy Piper, just when you thought you had all the answers. I've changed the question. So I thought I'd change the questions but I think we do have to ask this, it just sometimes doesn't feel right. And I know there's some places in the water remembered meeting someone from England. When I way back when I was open, when one of the two times, I've been overseas and went to a queer.

So overseas, no sign that one brightening England as opposed to Brighton here, Darlings. They, they would charge people to get into the private the after Pride event. You know it. Well that's you know, gee that's very middle-class cisgender going lesbian, isn't it? What if you're appalled, you know trans person sex worker person of color, whatever else pour in the monetary sense of the word. So yeah, we've got an issue here. It seems like it's common as I say, but maybe we'll just keep

Keep that one punting along but other things just to have been eaten aboutö gradually sticking the head out. Over. The last few weeks did go to Carnival numbers. Well down compared to or 2020 and most previous years are there was one new 2004 where it bucketed down rain and that obviously damaged two numbers, but I can understand why it was really hot and steamy and at that point the Omicron wave was at the dreaded Peak, so

Totally respect anyone's any group or individuals decisions to go or not go to anything at the moment, but the spirit was there. It was well, a small queer, booster shot to keep that analogy going. Melt suggested an idea that we have a big long queer lunch similar to the food festival. Well, look, that's an idea just somewhere where perhaps people sit and exchange ideas. I mean, you know, and Foods always a great way to do that is one of the great social connectors of our of our time. And you

Could have all sorts of ranges of food. Multicultural, cooking carnivore vegetarian food at are in the whole thing. That's that's there's something in that Mill. And so your Carnival was pretty cool. But I think we'll be back to full strength next year. I have been out and about I am though. This is a radio show. I've got my Richmond, a FLW Pride jumper on today. I didn't get any when they first came out but got on a waiting list. So thank you to the Richmond. Merchandise store for finding me in saying yes, we've got an

A large that's been returned. Yay. It's not 100% best fit, but it's still good. And I just love the design on it in so many ways intersection of indigenous, indigenous and queer. So I'm very comfortable here in the studio today. And that was the offal Pride game. I went to Richmond Fremantle, but I suppose we've still got the issue there of trans women in sport. Well, not that it should be an issue. I think it's a non-issue the same as bathrooms is a non-issue. So we know if we put our Bryant

Brains to act collectively, and without emotion, and did it in a safe way. We'd be able to work it out and the I see double A there and yeah, Lennox organization in America, I think has done that to some extent. But of course, media is having a beat up on it. G surprise, surprise been to lots of other things as well. I went to a wedding Friday week ago and the city's coming back to life or so went to a. So there was a Glam up and fancy dressed as well. And yesterday, I went to Herring island in the air and never been

Lived in Melbourne, fifty six and a half years. So outdoor events are good to do. Is you can particularly while the weather is holding pretty well here in this part of the world reasonable. Not too hot but calm and not windy or anything. So get out while you can. So, yes, a bit of a linkage there to out of the blue who proceeded, well in the errors case, it's out of the brown who proceeded out of the pan and freedom of species. There's lots of native species and floor.

And for Don Herring Island, and that's where you can listen to freedom of species next. But something new has part of the state of change of today's program is the brand-new Midnight Oil oil album. I haven't done it in years. I went to a store on the day on album was released and got resist and it's brilliant. Only had a couple of lessons so far, but it's just they've got it all together whether it will be their last album or not. I'm not sure. It's certainly, their last tour and all the cheap seats are gone. So I'm not sure if I want to crowd raised for, only kidding, for a big.

8-bit, let's have a listen to close the show. Thanks to Mel and John and Gabriel and all the people who communicated in today. Remember to do that. Take it out today though with Tarkan from Midnight. Also album break great, new album their fifteenth studio album resist. Thanks for tuning in to out of the pan. I'm Sally Goldner. Catch you next week.
