And we opened up with It's a mistake by Men at Work. Originally off their second album cargo the ways that difficult second album syndrome, but they did reasonably well. And that was one of four hit singles. And that's off a compilation. You can get Contraband the best of Men at Work and there's a few of them around and well, interesting. That all those sort of songs are having a listening to The Fabulous out of the blue. Thanks to Peter in the studio from out of the blue that diving deep for the Marine use as they do every Sunday. They played Russians by Sting. We'll all these 1980s sort of anti-war songs coming back and I will be talking about Ukrainian about the second segment of the show from an lgbtq perspective. I've got a couple of articles that have come my way which I think can talk to this and what is going on? Also have a look. Of course. Next weekend is Mardi Gras and have a chat about that. Anything else on the show. If you have some queries, we like queries on this show, questions comments, those sorts of things out of the pan. 855 at gmail.com. You can SMS 61456751215. You can tweet at sal gold said so and that's the bottom line. And look for posts on Facebook, my page, Sally Goldner, am and out of the pan 3cr 855 am Melbourne and any opinions on the show are expressly my own not those associated with any organization. I've been involved with past or present. There could be triggering stuff on the show today because I'll get to the first in the first segment in the second. Possibly even the third. So just a general warning if there is, and if you do need support Reach Out, Q life, including switchboard. Is there on 1800 184527, including switchboard, in Victoria and Tasmania and the rainbow door. 1800 927 367.

This to see topic. I wanted to start with. As I said, I'll get to Ukraine in the next segment is well transphobia generally, which is obviously a trigger warning in itself. But as per the delightful image with the show today, cutting through it. And I've been thinking about this in the last few weeks, obviously, since the religious discrimination bill. It's understandably, upsetting and emotional when that happened a couple of weeks.

Now we've got and I will not, I will do the tactic of not naming a certain Liberal Party politician. He's now putting a meaningless Sports Amendment Bill up before the federal Parliament, and it's worth noting that the reporting to the I suppose. I have to name this person. The mark Latham education bill in the New South Wales State. Parliament is, do the Monday after Mardi. Gras, one can't help wondering whether that's a deliberate piece of timing. So people have it in the back of their

And during Mardi Gras. So all these things, you think gosh. Is it ever going to change? Well to me there has been changed for Trans people in the 27 years. This April, since I've been out and there are far more allies now. And there's been a number of indications of this, the, the fact that five people cross the floor of the parliament against their own, the dominant force in their own party. Does say something that people are aware of the issues. They had their reasons one, was it?

Ecologist the wrong side. Effect is one wanted to protect her and States laws been bridged Archer but good and they still did it. Five people cross the floor. If you look at all the polls such as yougov research, put out by commissioned by just equal, declaring an interest that I've been, assisting them to a small degree at board level and today in the age. There's also a report the ages own a polling much the same results that overwhelmingly people want a, what's in simple language my words Paris.

Phrasing here. A standard religious discrimination Bill to protect people of Faith, but they don't believe it should be the expense of other groups and not a trans. And so this has got me thinking. Why do we still have these things? I think we've just got to be really blunt. And so I'm going to be a bit blunt today. Few years ago. There was a Frank admission by a so-called Christian group. I will say so-called Christian because they're not in the spirit of Christianity, when they said that the bathroom debate was something that they fabricate a debate, they Coded quote to whip up in motion. Now, let's just look at that. Whip up in motion. Yep, throw people off balance, stir up, emotions in all sorts of people, and who cares if it re-traumatize is trans people and family members, but fabricated? They lied. Now, I maybe am largely elapsed as a nice Jewish boy, but I did spend 13 years at a Christian School and the Jewish scriptures are the same as the Christian Old Testament. That include the Ten Commandments, Thou shalt, not bear false witness against thy neighbor. And other words, don't lie.

Christian's lying, maybe we've got a call this out. Once we look at those two factors, whip up and motion and say, okay. Let's try to difficult as it is. When you have your, you know, having your entire Community verbally attacked in this way. Let's cut through the bull dust and call it out. I've said on the show before when I was doing media, once in a previous role. I got contacted by a producer for a radio station and the producer said presenter, ex knows your issues.

Only wants to talk about bathrooms. Well, we've got a call that out and I don't care. And so, this is where this current Sports bill. You can argue it on facts, but why is it that such a small part of the population and couple of weeks ago, I mentioned that one article said, only 20% of the liberal party and National Party Party Room. Wanted to go ahead with the religious discrimination bill. So that's about 22 people. How is it that such a small? Minority? Keep overriding, the will of the majority Guardian is so out of touch in all this day and age of social media and communication. Why does this keep happening? So definitely and we know it's just it's just beyond the joke and I think we've got to be a lot more assertive doesn't mean personal attacks or name calling. It doesn't mean in my opinion. I don't really say, what paint bombing right-wing, politicians offices in Australia is going to do and I don't support that. Personally just doesn't achieve anything but a cut through.

I mean, I've been thinking about this a lot because I look at awesome people like Brittany Higgins and Grace time and how they tackle their issues for Trans Community. Needs to get back to doing the same. I think we've been thrown off balance a bit and I'd be the first to admit. I was as well for some of the last couple of years. And I think it's enough is enough and we've just got to cut through, but we also got to what we do. Have a right to do is no our candidates. There will be in 99% probability of federal elections sometime.

This year, most likely, a combination of a House of Representatives and half the senate in May this year is the, the short odds betting. And it's of course, we're in an unofficial election campaign right now. So the thing is something, most people will vote in the Senate above the line. They'll find the party if they want. Just put a 1 in a box above the line, what you don't necessarily have to do that, but you don't have to change parties. I respect that. Some people have a loyalty to a particular party and I'm deliberately.

Taping this, not naming any parties, find out about the six Senate candidates they offer. And you can't do have the option as you can fill out. Six boxes below the line, and you don't have to vote for the number one candidate for your party. If you think there are, what is it in our wnj, right wing, nut job, or similar to find out about the others? Maybe, there's better candidates within your party, which is a win-win. So, there are ways you can do it. And I think it's time, we got these people who are just unaccountable. Can't listen.

Out of power. And, of course, there's more than lgbtiq A+ issues to consider. There's the decaying state of our democracy. Generally the need, for a federal anti-corruption body, climate change, which, of course, shows interest shows, like out of the blue prior to us. And many other shows. Earth Matters from 11 to 11:30 on Sunday, freedom of species. Well, we lose sadly losing a lot of species. You can tune in to freedom of species from one till Today, they'll be talking about indigenous perspectives on the nonhuman world. So they'll be looking at a very intersecting taking a very intersecting approach in a way to, but it's just enough is enough and I think we've got to, you know, we can go in very assertively not aggressively. We don't have to be passive either. We can find a way through it, as Albert. Einstein said the problems that we create cannot be solved at the level. We created them, will even if we didn't create them, and trans people didn't.

Then we should be cutting through this, and calling out these phony issues like bathrooms and Sport because they are phony issues and calling out where people make assumption stated. As fact, like, all the evidence is overwhelming about testosterone. It's not overwhelming at all. And really just comes enough is enough and there's lots of trans people speaking up and speaking out, but it involves taking it to the next level and we can do this and cut through. What are your What's love to hear them? Had some messages eaten from mail in the meantime. No, not Mel. In the meantime, that's not a family name. But of course, I'm not going to mention that on here. Ha ha. What have we had Mel's come in to say, yep. Get to this in the next segment Mel. Send all my support to queer family in the Ukrainian Community both here in Australia and overseas. Yeah, there's an interesting. An intersection must be sort of double heavy going. If you're queer and Ukrainian here.

I know there's a feeling of helplessness and powerlessness that who is do. Wants this war part from Vladimir Putin, and his Rich mates. Can't think of anyone. And Mel, says, hugs to those people. War is stupid. I'd agree with that. To get that old song that was covered. Many times. Yes, and yep. Quite at this one. There it is. It's on a right right. Left hand page, but you can get it online. Of course.

Which is two-thirds of a strand support laws to prospect people from religious discrimination or vilification a similar percentage, opposed laws, if it means schools or other organizations can sacrifice Belle, gay or trans students, or teachers, or students of world says gay lesbian or trans, which is a by person that, you know, sort of sense of erasures always annoying. And yeah, so sick.

1604 eligible. Voters was the number there. There was a similar number in the Yuga yougov research commissioned by just equal. It's overwhelming. And the other thing I was going to mention is that yesterday down in Hobart because of the Tasmanian, Senator the there was a rally in support of trans and gender diverse people. And this was interesting. It was 240 people there and there was a

I am a bill supporting that certain Senators. Sorry, a rally supporting that Senators bill, which had 80. And the Hobart Mercury says. And I quote, anti-transgender activists were comically outnumbered by the pro transgender counter rally held outside, Hobart town hall. And I think that there's another tactic we can use satire ridicule. A wonderful piece of showing up stupidity. Here's a couple of examples that I've I remember from way back was in.

Texas and gosh knows, we need everything there at the moment. So that's a big issue where parents are now going to be dubbed in, if they support their trans children, which is just utterly appalling. That's an order from the governor there. But a few years ago, adults protesting found a very interesting by law that men were allowed to move. Their should remove their shirts, but not women. The thing is, there was nothing recognizing trans people. Under any form of law, anti-discrimination birth certificates, so, holy,

Of trans woman and took their tops off. And when the police said, you have to put the tops back on, the said, he's my birth certificate says, male. What are you going to do about it? And they couldn't do a thing. The other one that always sticks with me, is the UK group press for change. A great trans organization, used to send a trans woman and a trans man along to so-called women. Born women, or women's only conferences and say, well who you're going to let in which highlights the stupidity of gender binaries. And this was before, there was a lot of talk about non-binary. So,

Lots of ways you can highlight stupidity and I think it's a good tactic that can be used. So other messages in what have we got? I'll come back to those after the break, you know, sort of, you know, sort of. Oh, just a quick one from Peter who said here, Sally, cutting through is an art form and some people are better at it than others. So true. Well yet let's get the

One pair of scissors, some doesn't exist anymore for those who remember the 1980s ads with Bob and set and Budget Rent-A-Car, Bob, and sets cut the red tape and there was a send-up of the out. Hey, there's this idiot running amok with a giant pair of scissors at the airport. Well, we can use a giant pair of scissors. We will cut through and of course 3 CR is proudly a part of that supporting the trans Community for a very long time, including this show, which is why you could subscribe to 3 CR is always a good idea. Anyway, I need to take a breath.

And do some things on that regard. So let's have a listen to a track from Willows album. Not going to have this one anymore. It's the final track on Willows album out of my hands missed opportunity. Not going to miss any of those 3. CR 855 am 3cr Digital 3cr Dot org dot a. You and 3cr On Demand out of the pan with Sally.

The closing track off the album out of my hands, which was wonderful to receive in January and mentioned got to briefly meet Willow at Midsummer carnal. Hopefully, he'll be in Melbourne in sometime soon for some

Full shows Mel has coming with a couple more messages. And can we talk about lgbtqa+ rights in Russia and the Ukraine as well? Today's Sally? What can we do to help them? Well, your wish is my command because that is what this segments about. Now. I knowledge. This could be triggering on many levels and given that, there's the Ukraine issue generally is, as well as switchboard and rainbow door. I'll give those numbers again, 1-800 1845.

27 and rainbow door. One eight hundred seven to nine three. Six seven. I will mention lifeline on 13, triple, 14. And there are plenty of other services as well. And Mel is also said, look at the words by the Ukrainian president has his country is under attack and going to war his words are wise yet thoughtful but cut through effectively. Nothing aggressive it all. Very impressive speech. Well, there's lots in this issue. Now look the last thing I claim to be is a geopolitical military analyst or

So I don't really know what's going on. There's been all sorts of reasons is given as to why Putin is invading. I just know that none of it makes sense. And what I want to know is given again, so no one wants this and lots of its of course, been totally understandable that lots of Russian people at the rallies, in Australia, including Melbourne, have said, we don't want a war either. It's not between you and us and I think that this shows how out of touch some people are so

There's two articles that have come my way. One from Washington blade, which is a queer, American News outlet and this is from Elena Schmidt. Shevchenko lgbtq. Ukrainians will do our best to resist Russia. Putin, invading country with Traditional Values and it says, this was published on the February 24th. So that's Thursday, which probably would have reached us Friday here in

And she's all like wild cat 5 a.m. Because of the Massive Attack on our cities from Russia. No one in Ukraine. Can believe it's happening. Getting lots of calls and messages connected with various communities there that her organization has 11 branches across the regions, including in eastern Ukraine. And here's where it gets, you know, I'll raise the content warning. We started to collect names of those who must be relocated immediately. So why is it so dangerous for lgbtq?

Q i+ people to stay under possible occupation. Russia is coming with its Traditional Values and we'll be hunting as those who are dangerous for their evil empire. I heard they have already a list of activists who had persecuted first and I'm sure rainbow activists are on the lists similar in 2014, and some people have not returned and they opened this organization opened a shelter in Kiev and well what happens when Russia occupies Kiev, which they're trying

To do. And that's going to be very, very horrible. And this is let's call this what it is. This is Nazi Germany all over again. As far as I'm concerned. It's not trying to take over the whole world, but it's still trying to take over a country and I like writes, quote, this, I think the International Community needs to realize, this is not just some war in Eastern Europe. Here's my emphasis. It is the start of a huge International crisis and possible War.

All over Europe, the Russian president showed clearly showed. He doesn't care about International obligations rules or sanctions anymore. He will continue and never stop. Yeah that just about sums it up, extremist dictators always like that and you know sort of all it goes on to say about how the institutions and mechanisms are imaginary and that's not effective. You only people don't believe in them. They're not going to work.

And they're sort of, sort of, you know, what, what will work in the case of a full-scale Invasion, queer groups don't have planes to take people to a safe place. And here's where my heart breaks. Our activists from. Our lgbtqa+ can communities are staying and keep working. Providing support to the most marginalized ones. Honestly. I don't know how long we will be able to resist but

We will do our best for sure. Take care of yourself and your loved ones. And then says, everything will be fine. Wow, and I'll Elena that, sorry. It should be lives in Kiev. And yeah, I'll sorry Elena. I've been referring to using the name. Pollock. My apologies. Wow, so that's one article and then there's another article from lgbtq nation.com gained. Just upping the content note this headline Russian post Invasion killed.

It includes Ukrainian, lgbtq citizens. And this is from the tit. This article, says, quote. The US state department says that Russian authorities have drawn up a list of ukrainians to execute after invading the country and lgbtq citizens are on it, the list includes politicians and journalists along with members of religious and ethnic minority groups. Russia has orchestrated continued campaign against the queer, L the queer communities, and the West Overlook the torture of gay men. And

Trans women, and this is what is going on. And so obviously. Wow, it's hard. It's sort of hard to believe that this is happening. Yes. We know that 70 countries also in the world where there's still criminalization of will say lgbtq Q. People in varying, ways and degrees. What I find absolutely appalling is Putin claims that is invaded. One reason using

Did you train is to stop the denazification of the sorry to help with the denazification of the Ukraine? This comes from Putin? Give me a break. So the gain again, people just out of touch delusional, not, you know, sort of using power wisely, but I think that I feel a bit here is I have to say, I feel a bit.

Sort of helpless and Powerless. I don't know, you know, sort of what we can do. Peter's come in and said that his great neighbor went to church and lit. A candle for Ukraine. It's a nice sentiment positive spirituality is always good, unlike organized religion. Yeah, it's really difficult to know what to do. I mean, I don't you know, there's always that thoughts and prayers. Well, that's not

Kind of helpful in lighting, a candle can do that, but I think we feel perhaps a bit helpless. What we do need to remember and this is where it's not quite it's maybe two or three ball parks across is a few years ago. I did go to Russia for 10 days and to Saint Petersburg, which granted is far more liberal than perhaps other parts of Russia and smaller liberal that is and what and what is what is happening in some of these?

Out of places. And I remember at the time just before I went, there was all this talk about what, you know, what the West should do about the Winter Olympics. Well, ask the people on the ground. Now it's granted hard to get through at the moment. But those two articles hopefully give an idea as to what people would want. I mean, maybe it's money. Maybe we've got a lot of the West so-called West or the rest of the world has got to look at how we resettle Ukrainian queer refugees, which is why I played the Writes message earlier as well. There's just so many angles to this. It's very difficult to know what to do. But at least I suppose if we raise the issues on this show and others and other media talk about it. Maybe we'll get some ideas going but just it just seems like it's hard to believe this is happening in this day and age. So now it's we can only just send our best best strength.

To those people to all ukrainians. In course, not just lgbtq. Hope, there is a minimal loss of life and injury, but it must just be incredibly incredibly heartbreaking. Welcome everyone thoughts. Thanks Mel and Peter for yours. In the meantime. Let's have a listen to midnight oil from their fantastic album resist which seems appropriate enough and his talk on 3 CR. 8 5 5 a.m.

3c a digital 3 co.org w3c, our on-demand out of the pan with Sally.

I'm trees reach Multi Colored Sky to get there. I just close my eyes.

Until?

Tracy are at 55. Am 3cr Digital 3cr Dot org dot EU and 3cr On Demand out of the pan with Sally first broadcasting known through one every Sunday afternoon. Thanks for your company. And we just heard from Midnight Oil, Tarkan from their Excellence album resist and well worth the purchase and it's just as it's a really good play an album. That's right for the Times, musically.

Weekly and in style. I mean, when I think of midnight Hills first first album, and the first track on that album and the Riff buzzing guitar of 44 years ago. I couldn't do that. Now just wouldn't work. They've just really pulled it together. So whilst they're definitely on their last tour, but if this is their last album, they've gone out. I think on a high if it's going to be that another message in from Mel. Thank you, Mel. Elon Musk is provided free. Internet services for those it.

The Ukraine at the request of the Ukrainian Minister, whatever we think of Elon, he's providing essential services to cut through all the propaganda by Russia and lack of Internet services extraordinary time. Sally. Yeah. Look that's a it's fair called me. I don't think there's probably no Lon musk. Certainly. Would it be diplomatic to say Can generate controversy, you know, he does and he's bit of a let's be frank is somewhat of an egotist but look, he's done the right thing here on its merits. That's Affair call and there's been lots of talk of that. There's been ukrainians banding together to sort of stop ration hacking attacks and all around, you know, if you know Ukrainian immigrants all those sorts of things. Maybe there's the little things that we can do. What are the practical skills? We could offer that may help, you know, could we don't know, queer benefit for to support people wanting to leave.

Of Ukraine to try to come here. Now. There's a random brainstormed post caffeine sort of thought. So there's got to we've got to consider another message from Mel, another good thought. If people think it's not a problem, it's too far away. It's lacking in any emotional intelligence will, absolutely right. And I agree with what some of those articles said. This could be the start of a bigger problem if Putin is so desperate and tries to reclaim ground in some of the other

My USSR Republic's and he's already sort of done that in a couple. The fact that Belarus for example is effectively a Soviet satellite again is one example, so I think I'd agree with that first. We live in a multicultural country. We have people that links to those countries especially here in Melbourne. Our government needs will start sending humanitarian Aid to them as well as possible Armed Forces. Will they will watch this space problem. We all should care. War is Ugly. Messy inhumane. It's about having some emotional intelligence. I think that's a fair call Mel, you know, so we've got I think there's a sort of shock denial disbelief Factor, but will you know which are valid feelings and emotions, but we will have to cut through them and do what we can well closer to home coming back to this continent. Our next weekend is Mardi, Gras and always a contentious issue, you know, it's supposed to be a celebration.

And all that sort of thing. And yes, it's become very commercialized. And well this seems to be a theme coming through here. There was the Mardi Gras GM, you know, the way people were shut down, there seems to be a lack of accountability and transparency about why board members were suspended, much smaller scale and of course than what's happening the Ukraine and in federal politics, but where you have people become so selfish unethical and Accountable interesting thoughts. I know. Wow. And so, you know, it's supposed to be a celebration not been in Mardi, Gras three times and look enjoyed myself. I'm not going to deny that with them to with the Melbourne March in girls one with a polyamorous group, but I don't know. As I read more and more about the by the history of Mardi Gras and the by plus communities, and how biphobic there weren't it was two years ago.

Go, we had the fabulous Maria aortic tear Olie who's done plenty of research on this and how much damage that's caused in a year ago. I tweeted at Mardi Gras saying, look, when are you going to do an apology for your biphobia? You know, when you call people before a panel to say, well if you're bisexual, are you going to sabotage our organization will? Someone could have claimed to be gay or lesbian? And I said, and not really being and been sabotaging an organization, so, Sli. And now I'd always find it interesting that elements of gay. Men and lesbians are out there. Thumping, the chest for a poem apologies for past, criminalization for conversion, practice for police raids, on clubs or whatever else. But can they make an effort to apologize for for the bit of it for to bisexual and trans and intersex and as people for a razor and selling us out?

Out, probably not. So interesting. Of course, TV coverage on the ABC. Now that's I think going to be better than a commercial network with little, because they'll be less commercial, pressures, and less pressure. I supposed to flow shows. Some of the corporates. Also, manik Shafter is someone I have a lot of respect for his involved in the ABCs, sort of queer News section and she is one of the commentators announcers and producers of this, so that's got to be good as well.

So I'm interested to see how The Telecast goes good to have. It on free-to-air is important as well. So if your home next Saturday night, if your homo next Saturday night, haha, watch it, but interesting that Mardi Gras is just seemingly. So out of touch with the Grassroots of the community. The sort of Sydney Oxford Street belt causing a lot of frustrations and let's say as someone who's legally

We and ethically seeing a copy of an acorn trans presentation. It doesn't even mention non-binary. And that's only three years ago and less than six months ago, a friend of mine from the by Community. Got some presentations from the same organization and still referred only to buyers attraction to men and women thereby raising non-binary people and the people attracted to them. So hmm. It just really worries me that these organizations are just so out of

Touch and stuck in a sort of 1980s view of the world. It was interesting during the week that after to clarify something Rodney Chrome, run an article about how you know, the Sydney major queer organizations are just so don't rock the boat. And certainly that seems to be the case with some of them and it raises issues World Pride is in Sydney next year and that's been run by Mardi Gras. Just how inclusive will it really be. Will there be finally be an apology that would be

A good time to do it and show the world that hey, we can, people can say, okay, we stuffed up. We're sorry. And this is how we're going to do it, right? Interesting. Lots of thoughts. We could have them. Anyway, I'm going to get us in the Mardi grass spirit with a bit of a dancey track and do get us there, someone who has been at Mardi Gras and I think from memory, but if she hasn't, she should have been and that's Australian music.

I think it's fair to say icon. Fabulous performer. It's Marcia Hines and u3 C. R8 55 am 3cr digital 3cr dot-org w3c our on-demand out of the pan with Sally.
