And why did we do that? Because coming up very, very soon and we're going to find out exactly. When is the a DMC Multicultural fair and joining us on the line to discuss it is the president of the Australian glbt IQ. Multicultural Council Shelly Karpathakis. Welcome Shelly to out of the pan. Hi Sally. Thanks for having me in great. Great song. Loved hearing the Zorba is the opening into the show. Well, we like to make the guests feel at home, I mean, you could well be at your own, I'm sort of home at the moment, but yeah, I'm your ears are at home as well and we've got to say hi to all the Fab people like John from Greek and gay. Who might think might have enjoyed that as well? I'm sure he did. Yeah. Well people who are drinking gay or LG and oiledHe beat you up to. I plus all sorts of intersections could be enjoying a fabulous event that you want to tell us about it. Do you that I'd love you to introduce and tell us some what it is and when it all happens, thanks Ellie year on the Friday, the 7th of August and Saturday the 8th of August. We're really excited to bring the agency. Queer, Multicultural Carnival that's going to be how the Victorian Pride Center. So the Friday night is a Launch sort of events that we've got where we have a range of different performances, Multicultural performances, from Korean drumming, to Latino performances, to Indian, cultural dance, and at, so, that's a Friday night and then on the Saturday, we have more of a carnival day, where we've got a whole range of community stalls. So lots of different organ lgbtiq across. Multicultural organizations will be there to really talk to community.

About some of the work that they're doing as well as having more Multicultural performances, as well as some art and a panel discussion, and some more cultural dances. So we're really, really aiming for this event to be a, just a time to get together and celebrate, and, and time to get together and have some Joy with each other, and really support each other's cultural.

He's in space and learn about different cultures and cultural identities and face and have a good time. So we're really excited that it's only two weeks away. Absolutely, I need two weeks away. Gosh! It's it's coming up fast. I mean these are important times to only I love the idea of joy and celebration. Can we have enough of that? Never bring it on and I think I feel like I'm for lots of reasons. We need them in this time and so yeah. Very, very important that we do that just in case some listeners are aware. Perhaps we might be also worth of saying, exactly. Sort of what will say what where who want to happen when the, how the Australian glbt IQ Multicultural Council was formed and what and what its function is, yeah, it's TGIF. He's been around.

About to just over 20 years now and it did start from a group of University students. So Quia Multicultural multi-faith University students got together and formed an organization and then over the 20 years, it's become a peak body or lgbtiq, A+, Multicultural and multi faith community. So, we have a National Committee and some of us are based in Pretoria, and we've got some committee Members in New South Wales and South Australia. And we do a range of different events and research and advocacy. So, you know, sometimes we're talking with ministers and we're really advocating for the needs and the challenges through coming up in community at the moment. We're also love to be able to partner up universities and, and be part of really important research, which as we know, helps too.

Dictate and support policy makers. And we also love to be able to do community engagement events such as this as well. So such as this Carnival, so it's been a big 20 years and I'm really thankful for all the people who have been on the committee over the years. A lot of the people from the sector who have really contributed to a GMC and it it becoming what it is today. And anyone can get involved

We have a membership base as well. So if people are interested, I think memberships are about twenty two dollars a year. So you know, and all of that goes towards being able to support the community to be able to put on to be able to put on events and and and sit at tables where we can Advocate as well. So that's what we've been doing. We're completely volunteer-led and we are a lot of us.

Yeah. Well, a day jobs, and then we have, you know, this work that we're doing on top of it as well. Because we're all really passionate about elevating the voices of Queen, Multicultural, multi-faith communities and and supporting the is a lot of like especially over the years, has become more and more Grassroots lgbtiq are plus what we call multiple cultural groups like Greek and gay and we've had Queen was from Nam and we

We've got nusantara. And we've got all these new and evolving Community groups that we love to be able to connect with him. Support the work, they're doing. I know there's another organization our point which supports International students in a query in international students. So, yeah, there's lots of, there's lots happening in the community, which is really great and it's really great when we can all work together for the greater good. Absolutely, you know, that When we can get together and do all these things certainly and we always need in my opinion you know sort of the more detailed, the research we can get yes we need the great research that covers will say the for lack of much better words. Off the top of my head there proverbial broad brush Strokes of the rainbow but you know, sometimes we've got to drill down a bit and so understanding where certain cultures

Sort of might be at you know for whether they're perhaps not you know sort of progressing towards valuing all the intersecting diversity, really, really important. So you're doing great work. And yes, it is over 20 years already. As I like as I like to say as someone of significant lived expertise, I do remember back. Then we're at formed in the conference is down at some killed, a town hall. So been doing a lot of great intersectional work for a long time and yeah. Also, just to say, one of your great leaders, of course, a past Igbi, a Victorian of the Year, Judy tank. Yeah. GD Taeyang, Judy's been, she's done some great work for the agency whose agency, you know, years ago when she was president and I think she was president during the same sex. Marriage plebiscite and did a lot of advocacy work during that time as well and doing some wonderful work, Victoria Multicultural commission. So she's a great support to many The Igbiq across Multicultural, and multi-faced organizations and groups. Yeah, so this sounds like, you know, a huge, huge, huge event. I'm really important and I've had a question in from a listener, and this is really In fairness to you to sort of write off the calf so to speak. And so, you know, I'm, I do apologize in advance for that and if you don't wish to comment on and it's fine, the

Email from one of our awesome listeners Jenny reads football Victoria band Spectators from some Preston Lions Football Club home matches this week. Following an outbreak of Highly offensive anti Greek and misogynistic supporter behavior. And there were some, and it occurred between a match between the Preston lines and the South Melbourne football club and they are associated with different Multicultural communities. And so the question is, how from it from Jenny is how Ow, she'd love Jenny's for Shelly's. Thought, sorry on this issue and how we combat sexism in Grassroots sporting codes as well along with homophobia and racism and I'll add in biphobia and transphobia into phobia queer phobia. So as I say, that's a right off the cuff, but I think now, I hope that, that if you're new, I'm as a spin, that don't sense if you don't wish to say anything, that's fine, but if you do, go ahead.

Yeah, I think I had, I've sort of followed it a little bit in the media briefing and I did see it and it's always really disappointing when I was a little disappointed when I see that stuff, still coming up and I think that I'm not sure to be honest, I'm not sure exactly how to combat that but I think the more that we can do to support communities and Elevate the voices of communities, hopefully, And those things do happen that it's not, it becomes insignificant, you know, it's kind of like balancing and balancing it out and sort of being able to put more into, you know. Put you know, I wish you always there would be more.

Pretty cool. It like promotion of the great work that's happening in communities and the great work of, you know, women and queer community and gender diverse communities. And so use it is a, it is a difficult one and it is a good question because it's a question. I think that we just need to keep up asking, what is it that we can do? Because it's it's, it does happen.

Impact on the wider Community. Yeah, look, definitely. You know, sort of we just need and I think that's not enough /. My personal opinion if it was up to me, do answers, Jenny's question is I just think it's about for starters problem. You know, a few thoughts promoting positive values about respect and inclusion, and taking responsibility for choices, all that sort of thing preventative type of stuff is good II. Again, the lived expert,

He's coming in but I do remember in the early 2010's on the queer front. We had campaigns like no to homophobia, biphobia and transphobia and the Beyond Beauty Beyond blue left hand campaign and maybe we need those ion. You know, they're probably not in some quarters in inverted, commas populist at the moment, but I do think, you know, we've got to try to get back to some of these because, you know, I just I'm going to sound a bit, get off my lawn. But you know, I was brought up to treat people with respect.

Respect. Take responsibility for myself and all that sort of thing. And I just I'm not seeing enough of it. Yeah, yeah, no, that's a good point. And I think you're right being able to back those campaigns would be, would be, I think a great start and a great starting point as well. So yeah. Yeah. Well we can do all those things we can sort of be proactive about promoting positivity, but one thing once again that because I know you're sure

One time is that, you know, we have this great positive event, coming up at the Victorian Pride Center in a couple of weeks. Just once again, run through the details and all that sort of thing on the upcoming Multicultural Fair. Yeah. What if people want to? It's a free event. So people would love to come along and it's, yes, it's for people of, you know, queer, Multicultural multi-faith communities but it's also for our allies as well to come along and be part of this and you know, allies it

You know, that's very important at the moment. So we will definitely have it open for allies as well, and we have it on our AGM c.org. Do they you on our events page is even and you can register a ticket throughout Humanity X. It is free. And, you know, we'd love to see what sort of people come down and support, clear Multicultural communities, especially in a time where it's been quite challenging for many, many communities. And, and yet, we

We'd love to see that support and looking forward to run getting together. And like you said earlier, Sally just getting into the joy. You know, it's important and it's needed at the moment so that's the aim of this event will be. Yeah, that sounds like a good thing. I'll make sure that I put a link to both the event and to the Australian glbt, I qa+ Multicultural Council in the podcast so people can get along there. And yeah, just Wishing you well, all the fun and joy in two weeks time. And I always, I always say I'm in all of anyone who can be involved in event organizing. So remember to breathe and the next two weeks while you put put the last pieces in place but I'm sure it'll be a huge day. So you have lots of joy and thanks for your time and have a good afternoon to Shelly capacitors. Who's the president of the Australian, glbt iqa?

Multicultural Council. Thank you so much. Sally. Have a good day. Bye now. There it is. Yeah, and some important points raised by Jenny and Jenny. I've got your next questions to come up in the after we just have some more Multicultural type of music and queer and Multicultural. He is a former Eurovision contestant. 3 CR 855 am 3 CR Digital 3, CR dot org dot U. + 3 CR on demand out of the pan with Sally. First broadcasting known through one every Sunday afternoon. Thanks for your company. We just heard from Dana International and Diva, which seems appropriately internationally Multicultural type of stuff to play, but we will also play some Australian music in the second half of the show.

Well, it seems that following sort of the shows. Well, I have to say almost sadly. Sadly Segways a bit during today because following from the questions to Shelly about Jenny's issues in local round ball /, soccer football. Jenny is also I'm honestly not intended. It was just going to come out is on the ball re another issue and this time

High-level Australian rules and that was the situation at, you know, where a last year a player and I've got to get this detail right. Isaac rank Hein called a Collingwood player, a very homophobic slur, which I refuse to repeat on this program and the

The player was Collingwood a player, Isaac queen or and quite all was booed again this year. Now, you don't boo someone for standing up to queer phobia. You know, that are sort of, you know, is not on. And, you know, I just think that's really, it's just really poor, you know. And if people are somehow trying to

A sort of in some way saying, all will try to say something like, well, is that really an issue? Shouldn't we just be talking about the game and I am, I'm sorry, Jenny, I haven't caught up with the Apparently inadequate response from the Chrome's coach. I'm just trying to madly multitask as we speak being a bit on the go myself, but I'm obviously aware of this, the, the gist of the issue. That's not good enough.

If I mean you just I just yeah, and it does Link in to what we're talking about with Shelly. Earlier we need allies and they people have a right to stand for diversity. And yeah. Also just want to acknowledge Jenny your response from Shelly, which was also shared by Cheryl Moody, a former queer media reported, by the way, who's now, of course, doing great work combating femicide,

And yeah, we need to be combating these things. And as I said, I just feel like, you know, we're not doing enough to be consistent across diversity, to I miss is my personal. Take on it. I just don't see any point in putting someone down for any part of that person's sense of self or doing that to a whole group of people it just it doesn't add any value. Now we can go into, you know, all the sort of

What I call, you know, psychology and Psychiatry of why people might do such a thing, if it doesn't make any sense, but they do. And whether it's, you know, sexism and all that sort of whether it's sexism. Sorry, racism, homophobia, transphobia. Yeah. It's just simply not on and people to learn about my freedom of speech. Well I would think your freedom of speech is so precious.

Why waste that on putting people down? Now, I just do, as I say, I don't see the logic. You do something just because you can, while I don't want to think, as I don't want to think where that ends. Our I might just drive through a red light today. Yeah, or I might just go and kick someone's window, car windows in, of course, I'm not saying you should do that, but that's the sort of thing that I think, is where we have problems with this individual Freedom stuff. As I say, I just think it's gone.

Gone near too far and we need to swing the balance back. So to speak to being, you know, two things like respect. And I think it needs statements from people in positions of prominence and influence to take up that leadership on all the things that are happening. And yeah and yeah, I got the incident about the, the Preston

Yeah, really, really poor is Sport much. Oh I mean it probably does it tend to that can attend to that? Yes it can but really so many things seem to do that now I so I don't want to be. I want to be careful not to make generalizations about sport or any football code or any type of sport. Is it like is it it, you know, just this societal issue, that seems to exist that

That of sort of misuse of masculinity, misuse of power. So many things we could talk about. But as I say, you know, I don't see why anyone would put someone else down even if that was a right. Even if that was a freedom, why do it? There's more thoughts. Welcome all our listeners, thoughts on all the lines. And I forgot to mention the SMS line. I think earlier six one, four, five, six, seven five, one,

To 15, as well as the social media platforms, Twitter, Mastodon blue, sky, and Instagram at celgard said, so and the posts on Facebook. And I also forgot to thank test from out of the blue diving deep and getting as she likes to say very salty, with all the Marine news. All right, let's now have, as I said, some Australian music from the 80s. Here's ice house from the album. Sidewalk and well stay close tonight 3 CR 855 am 3 CR Digital 3, CR dot org dot a. You 3 CR on demand out of the pan. Ith Sally

3 CR 855 am 3 CR Digital 3, CR dot or dot are you and 3 CR on demand out of the pan? A weird Sally and we just heard from Ice House from the sidewalk album and another an underrated album track from a great album and stay close tonight. Either Davies, one of the Great Australian musical contribution has well let's just and checking on the message lines again, in those Immortal words, it is all happening. If we're feeling a bit sporty, sorry I should, I just might do it again to happening here at 3 CR, the tension, the drum of the birds, the crowd, the atmosphere, which is what you'd hope it would be. But unfortunately these things happen at sport. And Jenny's must you have you must have a day off today Jenny from work.

On Sunday. It's always under the guise of blokey Banta, especially in sports a year. Look that that is a fair call. You know, it's always little it's just a bit of a lower for didn't move it to be offensive but I used to have in stand-up comedy used to do it's time now for the footy panel on blokey. Block number one, I laugh at my jokes, huh? I'm number two. I laugh at mine too. And they're not funny as we know but it is under this guise of

But a bit of a bit of a, bit of a joke. Well, we know doesn't, there's the old saying it doesn't matter how you meet all these. The old saying, it's only a joke. When both people both parties are laughing and, you know, sort of it, doesn't matter how you mean it is, all very well, and it really doesn't matter, and it should be pointed out that when it comes to areas of life, covered by anti-discrimination and anti vilification laws, the section 10 of the Ian Equal Opportunity Act says quote motive is irrelevant. It doesn't matter how you mean it. I mean Germany, which is obviously necessary because you know, if people you know try us, you know the defendant in an anti discrimination case was asked to prove motive they just soul I didn't mean it to be offensive or Worse still if the God forbid it was 1960s and 70s sexism guy and which is where a lot of anti-discrimination law the need for it started.

And you had some guys saying or I touched that woman known inappropriate place because I thought she was hot. I didn't mean it to be offensive while we all know. That's of course not appropriate at all. So it should be pointed out that it doesn't matter how you mean it. You've got a gain it's about thinking about how someone would reasonably take it and let's use that, you know, the her Iowa, as I say, I won't repeat the word used in the homophobic slur by the against the Adelaide.

Crows player by the Adelaide crows player. I beg your pardon a few months ago. You know. It's it's just why. I just don't understand it at all. So yeah, yeah, that certainly wouldn't have been funny or positive or anything like that, but as I say doesn't matter just can't people exercise restraint, you know, take responsibility for the

Its ability to quote, the late, great author, Stephen Covey for their own choices. Not that hard as I say in my book. Yeah. Well, this is not necessarily Sports Roundup coming back to some performing and artsy stuff, which is what we cover on all cover everything. We're on this show and yeah, Ah choking on blokey Dust either except I am seriously. Another issue that's been in the news the last couple of weeks and has been the situation. I've been in Sydney of the closing, I'll say of a queer, queer friendly theater and its Productions and yeah this just sort of leaves me.

I'm bewildered at the double standards here. That the church in question was deconsecrated many many years ago so it's not really a church anymore which is the first thing I needs to be brought in and so you know it's there for you know, sort of

For public use it was there for you know sort of there for some use and it's a round became used by an lgbtq+ Arts pop up and there was a great article only yesterday in the guardian which I think look into this in. Good detail it took, which is headlined. It took months for an LGBT+ Arts, pop up to resurrect

And all church but just three days to shut it down by cat, warm and Divine Play House.

Apparently is now considering legal Challenge and discrimination complaint after religious protest turned the venue. Into a, I hate this term culture War to me culture wars, just a made-up term because there's no such thing as a culture War. It's people disagreeing. But of course Le hey, let's have certain elements of media and anti.

Why diversity type of people, you know, make up in Vega motive terms, G that's never happened, has it? And so, the article says it took months of love and care to make an empty building come alive, but three days to tear it all down. The gothic, signage and queer absurdist art can for divine play house had to be removed and placed into storage a vibrant. Mural had been whitewashed and the church which had

Empty for a year sort of opened on Night 2 of July with a year-long permit, but religious groups then protested at opening and asked the government to withdraw its Arts Grand. Because the landlord heaps, top, ask they promote has heaps gay events to seeks engaging in offensive trade. Well, first of all, I'm not look, I'm not a lawyer here, so I'd better be careful. But I think the question needs to be

I will be considered no doubt is Arts which has greater Freedom offensive and then their lease was terminated. Well, if they've stopped engaging in the alleged offensive trade, you know, why would their lease be terminated? That would be. Another question that needs to be considered at least sort of, they had then had to vacate and clear the space, and it has according

You and Kat Doper the promoter. And founder of heaps, gay has said, quote, it's not just about Divine anymore, it's about censorship and if they walk away, there's the, so-called religious groups will just get stronger and more powerful and loud. And they can't allow that to happen and I find it interesting that for years element, I'll be fair elements of religion, you know, have a go at I'm going to say here, sexual orientation, and gender identity, because some even of the more Extreme religious groups, do it knowledge, intersects existing, which may be surprising or they have in the past at least. But so they're allowed to say all sorts of horrific lie, disrespectful inappropriate inaccurate, generalizations about. I'm going to say algae BT, but the moment someone, you know, just does something that's again in an art form. They have some people, some elements have a hissy fit being this group.

Sort of that the Christian groups fit for the Kingdom. And The Prodigal, Sons will Kingdom g b patriarchal in line with our earlier conversation. They're Jenny funny about that, you know, sort of have come in.

Yeah, I'm sorry. I'm trying to multitasking here, which I shouldn't do but the idea HD, maids in the coffee or working and Jenny said, love your fear call analogy to bad pun accepted and the accent is hilarious and funnier than Dave Hughes these days to well, thank you. But I have to say it's probably not harder to be funnier than Dave anymore somehow he's lost his way, but yeah, this whole Idea that yeah, it's just seems one-sided it, you know, elements of religion have a hissy fit when people give it back to them. Well, both maybe both parties could say, if you don't like it, don't give it out. But humor, and arts. As I say a different to what might be considered other forms of debate. So yes, it's really been a very messy situation, very poor poor thing than my opinion. Anyway this has been handled the way it has and

So drag queens dressed as nuns well, you know, is that really so expensive? What are the some of the other things sort of now? Well, as I say, yeah, it has to be sent up. Now, one of my friends knows about a comedy event that lampooned a court case about whether an Guys ation was religious or not and that this of comedy show. Festival event had to be so careful about what it did and not be it too close to the truth, otherwise they would have been sued. I mean, you know again g double standards on individual freedom and you know, I could go to the Australian Human Rights Commission. It could go to the federal court or so this is it New South Wales law that's involved or Federal law or both and Divine Play House is busy looking for a new home. There's and I'll also try to get links in for this, if I can find them. Divine Play, House is looking for a new home eighteen thousand. People have signed a petition. Well, I'd better get in there as well and do that and also 41,000 being raised to cover, artists fee, pay for lawyers and fund the move. So hopefully

I do hope they get somewhere at the murals gone. You know, it's just, yeah. And also, they'll be a fundraiser show for canceled artists in the protest. So please, if you can if you're up in Sydney and or able to get their do that and I did notice actually the fabulous, busy homosexual, Dino Curie, who happened to be in Sydney joined in a protest about this. You're the man Dean, very, very good.

A few more messages from Jenny, you know, sort of you know, positive news. A local MP issued a statement against the group along with Jed Kearney the assistant Minister for Women's Health sort of. And I think that's in relation to the one of the football events Elliott page brilliant in the film, The Odyssey. Yes, and Jenny gives it the highly recommended.

Jenny pomerance gives at least four stars worth watching three hours. An IMAX. There you go. And yep. The rap you can get Elliott page. Just want to man. The first man trans man. Sorry to be on the cover of Time Magazine. A fabulous human. All right I'd better just do a couple more messages and then wrap up the show. It's been as to comedian set a pact program.
